Our educational goal is to nurture in students the ability to respond proactively to changes in the 21st century and to forge their own paths to the future. We obtain our goals with 5 colleges and 4 graduate schools. We developed a diploma policy consisting of five foundational academic skills and we are engaging in its educational activities through unique programs that encourage proactive learning.

iOP : Ibaraki University's educational collaboration with regional and global partners

Ibaraki University offers a unique education system composed of an integrated off-campus study program named "internship off-campus program (iOP)" in addition to its standard quarter-based curriculum. The iOP program, offered during the 3rd quarter of the junior year, enables students to select from a variety of off-campus activities such as studying abroad, experiencing internships at corporations or municipalities, engaging in volunteer activities or conducting independent research or fieldwork for the entire quarter. Students can select, plan and undertake their iOP at any of Ibaraki University's partner institutions. This includes 69 partner universities worldwide, 50 reputable local companies and 58 municipal governments and regional organizations. The aim of the iOP is to provide a platform for students to hone their communication and problem-solving skills: a core competency that is required in today's rapidly changing world.

Research

Estimating the impact of climate change and research for creating a sustainable society

Global and Local Environment Co-creation Institute (GLEC) is promoting investigation and research on the effects of climate change and adaptation measures in the Asia-Pacific region. We serve as the partner university in the master's program 'Climate Change and Development Program' at Vietnam - Japan University (VJU) opened in 2018 and contribute for a sustainable society with the resources of our research and education.

Vietnam-Japan University Climate Change and Development Program

Vietnam-Japan University (Graduate School of Sustainability Science) is a new initiative being established with the participation and cooperation of multiple universities in both countries under an agreement between the Japanese and Vietnamese governments. Ibaraki University has been the host university for the Climate Change and Development Program since 2018.

The curriculum for this program includes overseas internship at Ibaraki university.

Advanced research in quantum beam science

Ibaraki University has a satellite campus adjacent to the world's leading high intensity proton accelerator facility (J-PARC). Our strength is the research of quantum beam science (ex.X-rays, neutrons, muon) and the development of researcher and engineer. We hold an international symposium of quantum beam science every year and are recognized as the leader for research in quantum beam science.

iRIC (Research and Innovation Center, Ibaraki University)

iRIC was established in 2018 as the organization responsible for the research system at Ibaraki University. It consists of three divisions: industry-academia-government division; academic research division; and research compliance division. iRIC retains research support staff who work to coordinate research support and joint research studies.

Research areas of publications in Ibaraki University, 2010-2019 (InCites)

Ibaraki University undertakes research with a whole university approach to promote interaction between colleges and various sectors, and to encourage an unique cross-disciplinary research. In Ibaraki Prefecture, there are unique research facilities such as Tokai Village with a group of nuclear related facilities and Tsukuba Science City, and research efforts in cooperation with these facilities are our global strengths.

Research on regional issues and local history

We will conduct systematic research on regional issues such as the revitalization of the mountainous and depopulated areas. In addition, we promote regional history research through activities, such as rescue of damaged materials.

Educational research crossed subjects / territories

We value cross-disciplinary research that contributes to solve complex issues of modern education.

Front-line space science research

We are involved in research using radio telescopes, and international plans for next-generation gamma-ray observatories. With National observatory and other universities, we contribute an important part in the global research network.

Development of regional industry innovation

In order to contribute to regional industry innovation, we manage cooperation with local research institutions and companies, and conduct research in engineering fields such as metal material analysis and process development.

Food innovation

Safe and secure food to all over the world
Based on the Center for International Field Agriculture Research and Education that acquired GAP and the Food Innovation Center, we will establish a comprehensive field of food life sciences.

Regional branding based on heritages regarding Okakura Kakuzo(Tenshin)

We hold and maintain the Okakura Kakuzo (Tenshin) heritages, including Rokkakudo. We will contribute to regional revitalization based on the assets and will pursue research in art and culture.

Academic Exchange Agreements with Foreign Universities and Colleges

Ibaraki University, as a bridge for international exchange, has partnership agreements with 69 universities and institutes in 22 countries and regions, through which we conduct academic and student exchanges.

By communicating its educational and research outcomes widely to the international community and engaging in international exchange and joint research for students and faculty, Ibaraki University strives to promote education and academic research that is of an international standard, and to share the outcomes of that education and research with the world. We're promoting international exchange and joint research with our partner universities and institutes in 22 countries.

ASEAN International Mobility for Students (AIMS) Program

AIMS program is an international joint education program based in Asia that came out of a joint student exchange support project by the Malaysian, Indonesian and Thai governments. Ibaraki University has participated in AIMS since 2013 aiming to improve students' language and communications skills and to develop people who will be able to engage with society with a global outlook.

Overseas Internships

Ibaraki University offers its students overseas work experience and internship programs. Individual colleges also run their own overseas internship programs in their specialist areas in association with universities in various countries.

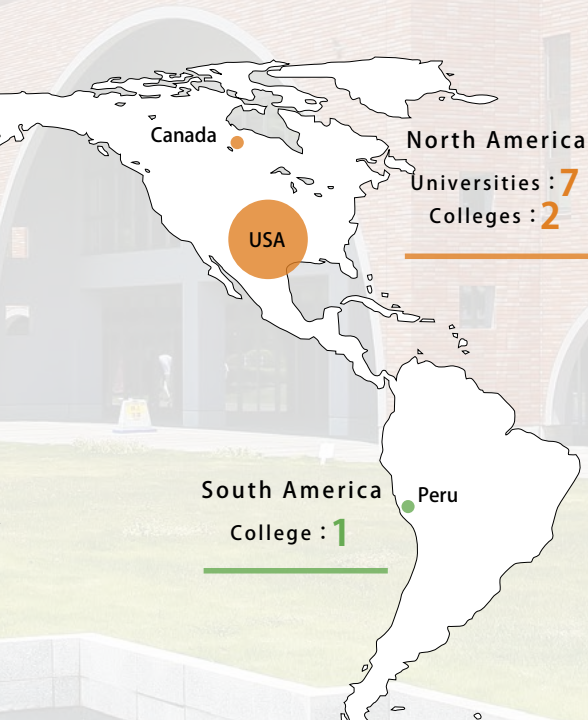

Japanese Language and Culture Program

This program provides students with an opportunity to learn and to improve their Japanese language skills and to deepen their understanding of Japanese culture and society. Students take Japanese language classes, and Japan-related classes taught in English. Intermediate-advanced students can also take college classes taught in Japanese. A wide range of cultural and educational activities are also provided during the semester.

Partner Universities Exchange Program

Ibaraki University has expanded a global network, forging close ties with universities worldwide and is committed to increase student mobility between its partner institutions.
